Colonel Lawless slowly replied: "I am glad to know that the matter is being sifted down. You have made this witness try to prove that Dr. Foster is a common fee grafter. That is the whole nutter, and I will brand it ac false and untrus. The witness has not proved anything. He knows nothing. The testimony of this man is inspired and I intend to show it."

Turning rapidly towards the witness Colonel Lawless said: "Were you sent here by Mr. Eugene Clowes?"

The witness hesitated, and then Rud Mr. Clowes had asked him if he would come if he was wanted. He said he had told Clowes the lee story, and that Clowes had asked him to testify. The witness said that he was in Williamsburg by chance; that he had been introduced to Chairman Sadler by R. E. Marable, and that the chairman bad asked him to testify to-day.

Interesting facts were related to-day from the moment the morning session opened until the very close of the thirteenth day's session.

Captain C. SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—Practically every bank in this city that has been able to secure temporary quarters, threw open its doors to the public to-day. There was no sign of a run.

Never in the history of Ban Francisco was there so much bank money on hand. For the past week money has been pouring into the local financial institutions from all parts of the world. The total to date has not been computed, but several days ago it exceeded $30,000,000.

When the savings bank opened this morning, they by no means had to de-pend upon money received from outside sources. Institutions like the Hibernian, the Humboldt and the Mutual, had mil-lions in coin and valuable securities in their vaults which were undisturbed by

The bank paid without limit to all. The Mutual opened in its own building, which had been badly damaged. The bank officials said they had over $2,000,000 on hand, and they met all demands promptly and without limit. WASHINGTON, May 23.—Prince Maharaja, Gaekwar of Baroda, Gujareth, India, and his brother were received at the White House this afternoon by President Roosevelt. The reception was informal. The Prince and his brother drove to the White House in a hired carriage. The Prince was ushered into the Blue Room, where ambassadors are received by the President for the first time. The President entered and Major McCauley presented Mr. Townley to the President, and he, in turn, introduced the Prince and his brother. The President asked many questions about the Prince's country, while the Prince expressed pleasure in visiting America, and especially its capital. revelations concerning stocknowings for soft coal mining companies by officials of the Pennsylvania Rallroad were made to-day, when the Interstate Commerce Commission resumed its investigation into the alleged discrimination by railroads in the distribution of cars.

Three high officials of the railroad—Vice-President John P. Green, Third Vice-President Samuel eRa, and William A. Patten, assistant to the president at Philadelphila—were the important witnesses of the day. Mr. Patton was under examination the greater part of the morning and was an unwilling witness. The persistent questioning of Attorney Glasgow, for the commission, however, brought out the fact that Mr. Patton had acquired stock, the par value of which is $307,000. In various conticompanies, without cost to himself. Is explained, however, that he had signed notes obligating himself for his share of the losses and declared his belief that it was proper for him to accept the stock under those conditions.

Vice-President fea read a statement to the commission, in which be explained all of his stock transactions, stating that he did not believe he was debarred from such ownership because of his connection with the railroad company. Mr. Rea said that most of his stock was acquired through his associations with land-purchasing syndicates, which took up the coal properties for development.

Vice-President Green said that twenty or thirty years ago it was not considered improper for an official of the railroad to-own coal company stock, but that con-ditions had changed, and such holdings ditions had changed, and such holdings might not now be regarded in the same light as formerly. He informed the commission that the board of directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad, acting upon the information that had been brought out at the hearings, had to-day appointed a committee of five directors to make an investigation into the connection of its officials with coal companies. Mr. Green said he did not own a dollar's worth of coal company stock.

He was asked to tell what interest he had in coal companies. Taking a list from his pocket, he enumerated the various companies in which he held the Keystone Company of smaller conpanies in which he was interested. Five hundred of the shares, he said, belonged to his brother, J. Howard Patton, who is Pennsylvania, Mr. Patton explained that he held stock in five companies, which were consolidated with the Keystone and through that transaction secured his holdings in the Keystone Company.

After repeated efforts had been made by Mr. Glasgow, counsel for the mission, to draw from the witness a positive statement as to whether he had paid any actual cash for his 400 shares in the company, Mr. Patton nade an explanation to the effect that he became interested in the land purchasing company
